

HOME LEARNING

Home Learning Solutions

More support for the way your family already learns.

Minnesota families choose home learning for flexibility, independence, and the ability to shape education around what works best for their child. Fullmind partners with homeschool-friendly districts to help families access additional educational resources while continuing to lead learning at home. Families remain in control of their day-to-day learning experience while Fullmind helps make resources and support easier to access.

Keep the flexibility you value

Family-led learning

You continue to choose how, when, and what your child learns.

No required Fullmind curriculum

Continue using the curriculum, resources, and teaching approach that work best for your family.

Flexible home learning

No required daily Fullmind schedule. Families maintain flexibility in how learning happens at home.

Your learning wallet

Families can access a flexible learning wallet for approved educational resources, materials, programs, and services. Whenever possible, Fullmind can purchase approved resources directly on your behalf, so families do not need to pay out of pocket and wait for reimbursement.

How it works

1

Enroll through a partner district

Fullmind helps connect eligible Minnesota families with a homeschool-friendly district partner. The goal is to provide access to additional resources while allowing families to continue leading learning at home.

2

Access educational resources

Once enrolled, families can access approved resources and purchases through the learning wallet. Fullmind helps coordinate eligible purchases and families can focus on learning rather than reimbursement paperwork.

3

Complete a simple weekly learning log

Families submit a brief weekly learning log sharing a few sentences about what was covered in each subject. This helps document attendance and keeps access to educational resources running smoothly.
